LTD Residency Requirement
For Students admitted Summer 2016 and later

In order to achieve doctoral candidacy, each doctoral student must satisfy the program’s residency requirement by satisfying three of the four Research requirements, the teaching requirement, and the service requirement.

Research (must satisfy three of the following)

__________ Participate in ongoing research and scholarly experiences by assisting in either:
- data collection for a faculty- or doctoral-level research project (your dissertation does not qualify), or
- data analysis for a faculty- or doctoral-level research project (your dissertation does not qualify)

Summary of effort:

__________ Submit a manuscript as primary or lead author (or, with advisor approval, as an author with substantial contribution to the research study and manuscript) to:
- a peer-reviewed journal, or
- an approved conference as a full paper to be published in the conference proceedings

Include reference:

__________ Participate in identifying and applying for a grant/fellowship

Summary of effort:

__________ Present a paper, brief paper, panel, roundtable, workshop, or symposium at a research/scholarly/professional conference

Include reference:
Teaching

Engage in university teaching, by serving as:

- the instructor of record for a course, or
- a teaching intern

Summary of effort:

Service

Serve the institution and/or profession with evidence of participation

Summary of effort: